

Professional and Continuing Education

Summer Water Workshop in Conflict Transformation, Climate Resilience, International Law, and Applied Techniques

Enhance your understanding and expertise around the vital water challenges of our times.

In this multi-session in person workshop, you will learn the essentials of:

- Managing natural resources for climate adaptation
- Water conflict management and water diplomacy
- International Environmental and Water Law
- Field skills needed to understand water resources in practice

ON THE CORVALLIS, OREGON CAMPUS

Choose one or two sessions, either as a non-credit workshop or for up to six university graduate credits.

Week 1: June 17 – 21 (8 a.m. – 4 p.m.)

- Water Conflict Management and Transformation*
- Managing Natural Resources for Climate Adaptation*

Week 2: June 24 – 28 (8 a.m. – 4 p.m.)

- International Environmental and Water Law*
- Applied Field Problems in Water Resources Management*

<https://workspace.oregonstate.edu/natural-resouces>

* You may only select one course per week as sessions run concurrently.

If you would like additional information or have questions, please call +1-541-737-4197 or email pace@oregonstate.edu.